Anti-Trafficking Young People Project

Law Centre (NI)

Law Centre (NI)

The Law Centre's Anti-Trafficking Young People Project provides a single point of contact for young victims of trafficking in Northern Ireland who are aged between 11 and 25 years of age.

The Anti-Trafficking Legal and Policy Adviser:

- provides information, specialist legal advice, and representation to victims;
- helps young people to access services by referral to other agencies for help with safety, accommodation and welfare needs;
- supports young people with applications for recognition as a victim of trafficking.

Additionally, the Anti-Trafficking Legal and Policy Adviser provides specialist training to advisers and other agencies.

The Adviser contributes to policy responses to inform and influence anti-trafficking policy development in Northern Ireland.

The Law Centre's Anti-Trafficking Young People Project is funded by Comic Relief under its Sexually Exploited and Trafficked Young People Programme.

For information, advice and assistance contact:

Fidelma O'Hagan
